It is with feelings of sorrow that we mounce the sudden death of Dr. E. H. foore. He was taken suddenly ill Thurs-ay afternoon and expired about 9 o'clock

Eli Herdman Moore was born in Wells-ing about the year 1816. He was a good hysician; had a large practice, and has esided here all his life. He had a large rcle of friends and acquaintances and as a consistent member of the Disciples His loss to the community wil but his loss to the community e compared with that which his or daughters, are called upon rs. We heard of an old trick being played We heard of an old trick being payed, the point several of our citizens recently. It is about this: Mr. Sharper calls and involuces some beautifully colored common salt, which he calls some very high-mon salt wh repair all damages done to the house, troduces some beautifully colored common salt, which he calls some very high toned name, and states that by putting the contents of the package in a lamp containing carbon oil that it will prevent the oil from exploding. Be this as it may, but the late Mr. Sharper was not content with selling a package of preventative here and there; he concluded to offer premiums—not chromos; but a magnificent parlor chandelier to all that would purchase a half dozen packages of his non-burster, the price of half a dozen packages amounting to some four or five dollars. He succeeded, we are told, in taking in a few, promising to send the chandelier by next train. Our friends will remain in darkness a long time if they wait for the light of those promised lamps and oil from home dealers, and you will need have no fear of explosion and no use for blue salt. G. Corruption at Harvard. From the Boston Globe.

A story apparently well vouched for is current at Harvard, which indicates that corruption is not entirely confined to low bred politicians. It is stated that for as long as three years past a systematic purchase by students of examination papers from the printer has been going on.

purchase by students of examination papers from the printer has been going on. By opening their purses freely certain wealthy students in various classes have thus been enabled to get hold of the questions beforehand which were to be asked at the examination, so as with judicious the first fourth and an artist in his prowealthy students in various thus been enabled to get hold of the questions beforehand which were to be asked itons beforehand which were to be asked at the examination, so as, with judicious feramining, to pass a perfect paper. As many as twenty members of the last graduating class at Harvard, it is claimed, would have failed to pass the examinations for the degree of A. B. but for this underhand purchase system. The corruption has but recently come to the ears of the faculty, and the printer who has of the faculty ing the bribery of a tutor by a freshman to show the paper he was to give at an examination about to take place.

The Administration and the Chinese Question.

Washington, Jan. 18.—There are excellent grounds for the belief that the position which the administration will take in regard to the Chinese question is that in the first place, those here must be fully protected, in life, property, and all their lights. When the doctor came and felt his pulse and examined him, and found that he was only drunk, he said, "He will be all right in the morning." But the wife insisted that he was very sick, and that severe remedies must be used. "You must shave his head and apply blisters," she urged, "or I will send for some one who will." The hushand's bead was accordingly shaved closely and blisters applied. The patient lay all night in a drunken sleep, and not with standing the blisters, it was not till near medicines have effected a revolution in the healing art, and proved the fallacy of sev-eral maxims which have for many years obstructed the progress of medical science. The false supposition that "Consumption is incurable" deterred physicians from at-tempting to find remedles for that disease, and patients afflicted with it reconciled themselves to death without making an ef-fort to escape from a doom which they supboth, according to the requirement
